PROJECTS

MedApp Reminder (frontend) - Github Jan 2026

- Built a responsive medication reminder web app for elderly users to track tablet schedules and dosage timings
- Applied WCAG accessibility standards — large fonts, high-contrast UI, and browser-based reminder alerts
- Deployed on GitHub Pages using HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript

Flight Delay Tracker (MySQL - Database) - GitHub May 2026

- Designed and implemented a relational database system in MySQL Workbench to track and analyze flight delay patterns across multiple airlines and airports.
- Created normalized tables for flights, airlines, airports, and delay records with proper primary and foreign key constraints to ensure data integrity.
- Used JOIN operations to correlate flight routes with delay causes including weather, technical faults, and air traffic congestion.
- Applied aggregate functions (AVG, MAX, COUNT), GROUP BY, HAVING, and subqueries to compute metrics such as average delay per airline, worst-performing routes, and peak delay hours.
- Generated actionable insights such as airline punctuality rankings and seasonal delay trends to support data-driven decision-making

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Technology – Information Technology Sep 2023 - May 2027
